

HOW DID IT HAPPEN

Some Mystery About Patrick McCarron's Death.

WAS IT MURDER OR ACCIDENT

He Was Hurt in a Fight and Afterward Died in a Hospital—Other State News.

DETROIT, June 23.—There is some mystery about the death of Patrick McCarron, who died at St. Mary's hospital about 8 o'clock last evening. McCarron was employed as a teamster by his uncle, M. L. McCarron, the well-known paving contractor, and had been at the hospital every since Friday evening last. McCarron told the doctors his injuries had been received from falling off his wagon, but it was afterward learned that he had been hurt in an altercation with William Kelly, another teamster, last Thursday afternoon. It seems the deceased was hauling earth from a lot on Beaubien street to fill up another lot on Brady street, the owner of the latter lot having agreed to pay him so much per load. Some other teamsters, among whom was Kelly, were hauling dirt from the same place, and the story goes that they insisted on turning the Brady street man with dirt also. McCarron and Kelly got into an argument over the matter, and it is alleged that Kelly, who was attacked first, choked his adversary into a state of semi-consciousness. McCarron was then assisted into his wagon, and it is said he was driving away and struck on his head.

Dr. Keweenaw's post-mortem last night showed that the skull had been fractured at the base of the brain, and that the larynx was very much inflamed. There was also a large quantity of pus in the throat, which alone was sufficient to cause death. Coroner Keefe will hold an inquest tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Kelly was placed under arrest as soon as it was ascertained that McCarron's injuries would result fatally, and he will be held pending an investigation. He protests that he acted in self-defense.

BAD BOYS "PLUCKED"

For Dumping a Professor in a Dismal Swamp.

SAGINAW, June 23.—Professor George A. Klenne, instructor in German of the state high school, has had a disagreeable experience that he will probably not forget during his lifetime. A number of the students have for some months threatened a grudge against the professor, and Wednesday night about 11 o'clock a party of sixteen, mostly of the graduating class, called at the house of Mrs. P. Lewis, where Professor Klenne was staying. The boys had their faces covered, and when they knocked at the door asked to see the professor, who was about retiring for the night. He no sooner appeared than he was surrounded on all sides and forcibly carried to a hack they had in waiting, after which he was driven several miles out of the city and dumped in a dismal swamp. With a wild shout of triumph the boys then drove away, leaving the infuriated professor to trudge wearily home. At a special meeting of the school board last night all the students concerned in the outrage were expelled and prevented from receiving their diplomas until further action of the board. This covers all the male graduates of the class except three. The boys say they did it for a joke.

UNGRACIOUSLY RECEIVED.

What Citizens of Lansing Think of the Nomination.

LANSING, June 23.—The nomination of Cleveland was very ungraciously received by nine-tenths of the democrats of the city. Apparently all the Cleveland men went to the convention. He is thought to be fatally weak in the west upon the silver question, fatally weak all over the country with the old soldier element, and fatally weak in New York in consequence of the treatment of the supporters of Hill in the convention.

The fight precipitated in the convention upon the silver tariff plan is regarded as a great mistake. Republicans almost universally concede that Cleveland is the strongest nomination possible to the democrats, express confidence in the ability of the republicans to defeat him. The nomination of Cleveland is, therefore, notwithstanding his greater strength, as the issue will be square and clearly defined.

NOMINATING MEET.

The Evening Flier Published a Groundless Statement.

JACKSON, June 23.—The sensational story published in today's Detroit News, stating that a "mass meeting of leading republicans" would be held in this city tonight to boom the Hon. James O'Donnell—whom every man, woman and child in this city loves, respects and honors for the governorship, was simply manufactured out of whole cloth by the News' penny-a-liner.

Mr. Fingree has hosts of enthusiastic supporters here, among whom there is none more loyal or more earnest than the congressmen from this district.

WAS HE MARRIED AT ALL?

Mr. Clemens, Mich., June 23.—The celebrated case of Van Dusen vs. Van Dusen has been terminated. Mrs. Van Dusen losing her case and Judge Canfield practically holding that the common law marriage does not exist. The key of the case shows that away back in the past Mrs. Van Dusen worked as a domestic for Van Dusen in Indiana and he imported her to marry him. Time drifted along and she left, but he followed her and told her that he had secured a divorce. She agreed to be man and wife, and she demanded the ceremony which was never performed. Everywhere Van Dusen introduced her as his wife and gave her name to a daughter that was born to them. She applied for divorce and alimony, and the case has been on trial over a month. It ended Tuesday by Judge Canfield denying her petition and dismissing the bill, holding that she had no cause of action, as there was no proof of marriage. Her attorneys claim that the judge's decision is practically a denial of the legality of a common law marriage.

Penitential Pickups.

There's a treat for lawyers up at Beesemer. A policeman is under arrest for shooting a Finn. At the coroner's inquest the witnesses for the people testified that when the fatal shot was fired the murdered man, who had assaulted the officer, was running away and was in the back of the crowd. Another witness, a Finn, the prosecution went upon the stand, the surgeon who made the post mortem examination, and swore that the ball entered at the breast. Beesemer policemen must carry the kind of revolvers that shoot around a corner.

The executive committee of the Michigan State Press association has decided not to hold another meeting this year. An extended excursion followed the last meeting, which was held in January, and the members of the association will all be very busy during the impending campaign and would, therefore, find it difficult to get away.

Someone told a White Pigeon woman that a good way to rid her chicken coop of lice was to build a fire in it and smoke them out. She now knows a more effective way than that, and water in its scope of usefulness. By her method the lice were all destroyed, the rats driven out of the barn, and if the wind had been in the right direction the bugs in the house would have been put to route too.

HOT ARDOR

Soon Cooled—Says His Wife Is a Bad Woman.

CHICAGO, June 23.—A little over a year ago north side society people were surprised at the sudden and unexpected marriage of Ogden Strong, the son of General Strong. The name of the girl to whom Ogden was married was Maggie C. Tobey. The Strong family was opposed to the union and refused to recognize or receive the wife. On the contrary, Mrs. Ogden Strong claimed that her husband's people were making every endeavor to separate them, and finally succeeded in alienating her husband away from her. The sequel to the marriage is told in a bill for divorce just commenced in the circuit court by young Ogden. He says he was married to Maggie C. Tobey in January, 1891, at Milwaukee, Wis., and that he lived with her until August, 1891, when he became convinced of her infidelity. He claims that she voluntarily entered an improper house and became a common inmate.

Imitators and Impostors.

The unequalled success of Alcock's Porous Plasters as an external remedy has induced unscrupulous parties to offer imitations, which they endeavor to sell on the reputation of Alcock's. In the Detroit Free Press June 7, sixth page, under the head of "Distinguished Doctors," we see the names of the members of The American (Alopathic) Medical Association, who are meeting in that city, and the specialties in which they are engaged, and also the pictures of 28 of those who can afford it.

If this is their advertisement, and we think it is, we wish to congratulate the principal physicians among the Alopahs for their success as advertising physicians, and we feel sorrow for the common herd of Alopahic physicians who do not DARE to advertise. What does this meeting amount to, anyway? Is it anything more than a mutual admiration society and a free advertising scheme for its members? Will the rest of the Alopahic physicians call them "quacks" after this? We hope not, as the members of the American Medical Association have as much right to advertise as Dr. S. CLAY TODD, and we wish to congratulate them on their success as Advertising Physicians.
